Rich built the house about 1837. Wallace came to the house about 1842; a partial stone foundation and additions were probably added by him. The Missouri Mormon Frontier Foundation, organized to collect and preserve information from the 1830s period in Mormon Missouri, has completed three years of archeological investigation at the site. Further work is scheduled in the future. For more information on this project and others sponsored by the MMFF, see their website at <http://www.sunflower.org/~ronromig/mmffhp.htm>.
